A3 A festival diary

Yesterday was the local art festival. The square was crowded, but the library garden was quiet. Our favourite musicians were on the small stage at four. There was a sign between the two entrances. It showed the way to the tram stop. We enjoy travelling by tram because the roads near the square are busy. My little brother likes walking through the underpass. At the end of the afternoon, we were tired but pleased. We plan to visit the music event next month.

1. Where was it quiet?
