Observations in the Wild

(Read and write T (true) or F (false))

Elif and Toprak are looking at the animals and talking about them.

Elif: Do you see the wolf? It lives in the mountains.

Toprak: Yes, I see it. But look at the elephant! The elephant is a bigger mammal.

Elif: You are right. It has got tusks and it lives in the savanna.

Toprak: Look! There is a snake. It's so quiet and scary. Do you think a gorilla can move faster than it?

Elif: A gorilla? Of course, not! A snake is much faster. It's a reptile and one of the fastest animals in the field.

Toprak: Tigers are also here. They are among the strongest animals in the forest.

Elif: Yes, but an elephant is the biggest of all.
